Solar Panel Purchase Sales and Inventory Management System

Overview

How do solar companies manage inventory?

As a solar company, you may have warehouses across the country, each holding a different amount of inventory. Many companies have to manage the complexity of maintaining stock at multiple locations. In the solar industry, the need to keep equipment on individual crew trucks further complicates inventory management.

Why is inventory management so difficult for solar companies?

Inventory management for solar companies can be more complicated than in other industries because of the many influences affecting customers' purchasing decisions. Demand for solar panels changes dramatically based on external factors. Some are similar to many other sectors.

How can a solar installer track a serial number?

Installers can accurately track serial numbers for solar panels or other equipment used in installation with our integrated barcode scanning capabilities. Our cloud-based inventory solution provides complete control over your warehouse to save you time conducting physical inventory and save you money on purchasing decisions.

Should you sell solar panels at a loss?

Solar products often experience periods of rapid devaluation. If you have unsold inventory in stock, these market conditions can mean you have to sell panels at a loss. This is less of a problem if you only buy equipment for your contracted jobs because you'll sell them at an agreed-upon price.

How do I track a solar panel warranty?

To track the warranties for each solar panel in a home or commercial installation, every solar panel has a barcode printed or etched on the panel from the manufacturer. As an installer, you need records that are easily accessible. So, you must have an archive of every solar panel linked back to their installation date and project.

Do you need inventory management software?

To do this well, you need an inventory management system that allows you to track and move inventory across multiple locations. Software like Finale Inventory enables you to track inventory in many locations and sublocations so you can identify and replenish low stock, even on a truck-by-truck basis.
