What is the HS code for solar street lights?

For solar street lights, the relevant HS code falls under 9405.40, which refers to “Electrical lighting or signaling equipment.” Here’s a breakdown of the classification: 9405- Represents “Lamps and lighting fittings, including searchlights and spotlights and parts thereof.”.

Are solar lights still a part of the new HS?

"Solar lighting products will continue to appear in different parts of the new HS. Countries struggled to agree on how to define portable solar lights, in addition, many countries would have preferred to identify LED lights as a separate product, but the existing list made this difficult and instead new codes were created.

Are solar street lights HS codes accurate?

When it comes to renewable energy solutions like solar street lights, accurate classification via HS codes becomes even more critical. Solar street lights are an essential component of sustainable urban infrastructure, but without proper classification, businesses may face delays, increased costs, or legal issues.

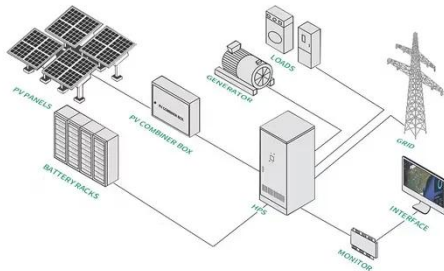

Should solar street lights be subsidized by HS code 9405?

For example, if a country has a free trade agreement (FTA) with provisions for renewable energy products, solar street lights classified under HS code 9405.40 could benefit from reduced tariffs, making them more affordable and attractive to buyers in those regions.

What are HS codes?

HS codes, or Harmonized System codes, are a standardized numerical classification system used worldwide for identifying and categorizing traded goods. Developed by the World Customs Organization (WCO). These codes serve as the foundation for global trade, ensuring that goods are uniformly classified across countries.
