Batch deposit at small sites

Overview

What is a batch deposit?

A batch deposit records multiple invoices as paid in a single payment transaction. You can create a batch deposit if you're going to bank cash and cheques for multiple invoices as one deposit, or a customer has made a single online payment for multiple invoices. You can include a maximum of 50 invoices in a batch deposit.

When should I create a batch deposit?

Create a batch deposit when you're going to deposit cash or cheques in your bank account for multiple invoices. Batch deposits are also useful when a customer has made a single payment for multiple invoices. A batch deposit records multiple invoices as paid in a single payment transaction.

What is a batch payment?

Batch payments are a way to process multiple payments in a single transaction. Instead of making individual payments, you can combine several payments into one batch and submit them all at once. This can be especially helpful for businesses and organizations that make regular payments to employees, suppliers, or vendors. How do Batch Payments Work?

How do I create a batch deposit?

Enter the information into the batch deposit fields. Adjust the amounts in the Payment column if you have received part-payments for your invoices. Once you've created the batch deposit, you can print a summary of the transactions included by clicking Print Deposit PDF. This section provides guidance and tips on the batch deposit fields.

How do I delete a batch deposit?

Edit the payment details as required. Click the delete icon at the end of an invoice row to remove that invoice from the batch. Deleting a batch deposit doesn't delete the invoices in the batch. It does delete the payments applied to the invoices, so the invoices will return to awaiting payment status.

How do I deposit a batch of cheques?

Enter the date your customers paid you or the date you are going to deposit your batch of cheques. From the drop-down menu, select the account you're going to deposit your cheques into. This can be a bank account or any account on your chart of accounts with payments enabled.
